Assignment 2

CSE 6708 (Semantic Web)

Full Marks: 100

Submission Deadline: Saturday 21st September, 2019, 6:00am

1 The Problem

Write a report on the paper you have presented. This said, that is rather a wide statement. Let's try to give you some kind of outline of the report.

There will be the following sections in your report:

- (a) A summary of the paper. If you simply put forth abstract of the original paper, or copy-paste some selected lines, it is highly likely that you will get zero marks. Try to discuss your own comprehension in your own language. This part should be around half a page. (10)
- (b) An analysis of the references in the original paper. Please try to avoid making this analysis a linear list. It is difficult to comment on the intended length, but should be at least a couple of pages. (25)
- (c) An analysis of the citations of the original paper. Again, please try to avoid making this analysis a linear list. And again, it is difficult to comment on the intended length, but should be more than a couple of pages. (35)
- (d) Future works which can be carried out on what you have presented so far. Try to be as detailed as possible. I expect not less than a page. (20)

In addition to the above sections, the following marks will be awarded as well.

- My overall impression on your report. (10)

2 Submission

- i. There will be a single file in your submission, one documentation (any format you like, but I prefer PDF).
- ii. It must be stressed that though the papers were presented in groups, there is no room for group submission for this assignment. All submissions must be individual.

- iii. Please remember that submission deadline is Saturday 21st September, 2019, 6:00am.
Delay by each hour or fraction thereof carries a penalty of 10% deduction of marks. You yourself is responsible for power failures, unavailability of Internet or any other unforeseen circumstances whatsoever.

3 Miscellaneous

- i. Cases of plagiarism shall be strictly dealt with and will result in -100% marks.
